The 7th World Congress of Hair Research will bring together hair biologists, dermatologists, cosmetic scientists and hair transplantation surgeons in the splendid festival city of Edinburgh. This 7th World Congress represents over 20 years of common international pursuit towards a better understanding of hair health and disease.

The congress will attract 500+ delegates from all around the world who will benefit from the latest developments in scientific and clinical research as well as an exciting social programme, including a welcome reception at Edinburgh Castle. The venue will be the purpose-built Edinburgh International Conference Centre (EICC).

Highlighting the valued partnerships between all the hair research societies around the world, the congress will have invited lectures from international scientific experts and there are many opportunities for company sponsorship at all levels. Please e-mail us to request our sponsorship brochure.
